

How to Clear Online Studies

The Requestor can deposit into any online study with their PCARD. The Requestor must provide the documents (transaction report, IRB, amount) to the designee within 30 days to clear/reconcile the expense. Indicate in the business purpose header If the online platform is used for classroom/teaching/project purposes only and NO IRB is required.

To clear/reconcile transactions related to any online study platform. All deposits should be cleared within 30 days per the University PCARD policy. Transaction reports are required no matter the dollar amount and should be attached to the expense report. This is a receipt to certify the funds have been spent and match the expense amount or reimbursement.

- The Requestor must provide you with the transaction history report. The report should match the deposit (for example, if the deposit is for $25.00, the transaction report should display the $25.00 paid to participants). If the transaction report shows only some funds paid to participants within $10.00, please reach out to sombusiness.office@yale.edu. This is required documentation when paying study subject participants.
- Create an expense report for the transaction. You can clear multiple transactions at once in 1 report.
- Business purpose example: Expenses for Prolific, Mturk and Turkprime online study platform used to pay study subject participants by John Doe/April Jones on 7-13-2005.
- Include IRB number in the memo.
- Expense type Human Research Payments
- Attach the transaction history report. Each report would match the amount that was deposited.
 - Mturk is an excel file-do not filter; use a date range from the start of the deposit to when the study was completed, give a day or two.
 - Prolific is a PDF transaction report that will display paid in full.
 - Turkprime/Cloud Research is a PDF document.

Note if the requestor is NOT using a Pcard and using out-of-pocket funds, they have 120 days to request reimbursement in Workday. After 120 days, you must use the 120-day form to complete a taxable reimbursement through payroll. The same documentation listed above would still need to be provided.
